FIFTEENTH SUNDAY OF THE PENTECOST

الأحد الخامس عشر من زمن العنصرة

Lk 7:36 – 50. * 1 Thes 1: 1- 10. * Book of Micah 7:7-9.18-20.

The Gospel according to Luke emphasizes that Jesus came to save people who were lost. The passage before us accentuates Jesus' plan of salvation and the human conditions that accompany that plan. The good news is that everyone Jesus encounters, he desires to save from their sins, and his mission was more than sufficient to save all humanity. Nevertheless, not everyone accepts the salvation he brought. Apparently, the sinful woman had previously heard the good news message from Jesus. She was full of sorrow for her many sins, and in faith she accepted Jesus as her Savior. As a result of having her enormous sinful debt cancelled, she poured herself out in loving gratitude over the One who had forgiven her. Simon does not see with spiritual eyes what God has done in this woman's heart, so Jesus makes a public announcement that her many sins are forgiven. Her love for Jesus is so filled with gratitude that she cannot control her emotions. It is not that Simon has less need of Jesus, for we are all debtors who cannot pay. Jesus was his Savior, too, but Simon does not believe he needs Jesus, and confirms this by the absence of gratitude and love toward Jesus. Ironically, Simon was the more "religious" of the two!
